COURSE SYLLABUS

Course Information

MS-4401 Integration of Faith, Work, and Economy, 3 credit hours

Course Description

This course is a study of the theology of work, its goodness and importance, the callings of people within and outside the church, and the integration of faith, work, and economic activity in the ways that people pursue excellence and find meaning and fulfillment in personal (spiritual) and professional life. It includes an exegesis of multiple contexts with a view to help the church in three primary ways: (1) by empowering laypeople for a whole life, meaning, and 24/7 discipleship; (2) by equipping them to take biblical workplace values and insights into a diverse and global marketplace that does not possess a clear faith or biblical worldview and to live and describe their approach to life and work in an appealing, constructive, and positive way; (3) by casting a vision for virtuous membership and participation in civic community.

Prerequisites: None.

Course Objectives

By the completion of this course you should be able to:

1. Evaluate treatments of economy and work from a biblical perspective
2. Describe the relationship between the faith community and economic practice
3. Construct a biblical and theological understanding of work and economy
4. Discuss specific professions in theological terms

Course Work

See the Syllabus page in the Blackboard course for general assignment instructions.

All course work is due according to the Course Schedule.

A. CLASS PARTICIPATION: Active participation is expected in this online course. Participation includes two main areas: content expectations (reading/listening/watching) and discussion boards (student interaction). Class Participation contributes significantly to the final course grade.

1. Content Expectations: The completion of the course reading, audio/video review, online articles, etc. is an important part of the course. You should complete these content expectations prior to your initial discussion board posting each week so you are able to discuss the concepts with others in the course.

2. Discussion Boards: You must maintain a significant presence in the discussion board. Refer to the discussion board instructions listed on the Course Schedule for more information on how your participation in the discussion board will be assessed. If not specified, post your initial response to the discussion question by mid-week (Friday, 11:59pm Central Time (CT)). Then read all other threads and respond to at least two (2) other student initial threads by the end of the week (Monday, 11:59pm CT).

B. ASSIGNMENTS: Assignments are the primary means of assessing whether learning has transpired and may include papers, reports, exams, projects, and the like. Assignments are submitted through a link in Blackboard so they can be recorded in the Blackboard Grade Center. Your instructor will grade your assignments and return them through the Grade Center. Specific detail for each assignment is listed below and in Blackboard. All assignment are submitted by Monday at 11:59pm Central Time (CT) unless otherwise stated in the directions. Specific detail for each assignment is listed Blackboard.
